eBooks from ebrary now Available through YBP Library Services

August 20, 2007 – Palo Alto, CA and Contoocook, NH – YBP Library Services, the world’s leading provider of materials to the academic library community, and ebrary®, a leading provider of eContent services and technology, today announced the availability of ebrary titles through YBP’s GOBI® online database. The two companies have integrated ebrary’s platform and its growing selection of eBooks with the GOBI system, providing an easy and efficient way for libraries to preview, order, and manage ebrary titles along with their other print and digital holdings.

“We are very excited to make ebrary’s eBooks and other titles available to our customers under a variety of pricing and access models through GOBI,” said Linda Gagnon, Senior Vice President, eContent Integration & Business Development, YBP Library Services. “Not only does this enhance our selection of titles from leading publishers in all academic subject areas, but ebrary also offers a very compelling platform with an easy-to-use interface featuring tools that enhance the research process. We look forward to building upon our relationship with ebrary.”

“YBP is a recognized leader and innovator in the library community with more than 5,000 customers throughout the world,” said Kevin Sayar, President and Co-founder of ebrary. “Our integration and partnership with YBP provides enormous opportunities for ebrary and our publishing partners to further market and sell titles, while making the process easier for customers.”

YBP customers who order ebrary titles through GOBI benefit from all of the unique features of the ebrary platform, including the ability to seamlessly integrate every title with their catalog, other library resources, and information on the web through ebrary’s unique InfoTools™ software. ebrary also provides sophisticated research tools such as personal bookshelves, multiple search and navigation options, and automatic, customizable citations with a URL hyperlink back to the source when text is copied and pasted or printed.

ebrary's eBooks and other valuable content spans all academic subject areas. More than 260 of the world's leading publishers contribute to the selection including McGraw-Hill, Springer, Elsevier, and Taylor & Francis, as well as many university presses such as Yale University Press, Oxford University Press, and Cambridge University Press.
